Privacy Policy

Pursuant to Regulation S-P adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission, it is the policy of Round Table Wealth Management (“RTWM” or “Firm”) to keep confidential nonpublic personal information (“information”) pertaining to each current and former client. RTWM recognizes the privacy concerns of its clients and assures that the safeguarding of information is one of our highest priorities. RTWM provides this notice so that clients are aware of the kinds of information the Firm collects and the circumstances in which such information may be disclosed to third parties.

Information RTWM May Collect

RTWM may collect the following information about the Firm’s clients:

- Name and contact Information
- Social security or taxpayer identification number
- Assets and income
- Account information including investment activities
- Investment objectives and risk tolerance
- Financial documents including tax returns, wills, trusts and other documents

RTWM may collect clients’ information from the following sources:

- Account applications and other forms
- Correspondence between a client or service provider and RTWM; this may be written, electronic or telephonic

How RTWM Handles Clients’ Personal Information

RTWM does not sell information about clients to third parties. The information the Firm collects is not disclosed to anyone unless RTWM is:

- Authorized by the client to disclose information to individuals and/or entities that service the clients account(s) and have need for such information (e.g., attorney, accountant, insurance agent, account custodian, administrators, etc.); or
- Required to do so by judicial or regulatory process or otherwise permitted to do so in accordance with the parameters of Regulation S-P.

RTWM may contract with companies to perform services for us (e.g. independent auditors, administrative, and systems support). Where necessary, RTWM will disclose information the Firm has about clients to these third parties. In all such cases, we provide the third party with only the information necessary to carry out its assigned responsibilities and only for that purpose. We require these third parties to treat your private information with the same high degree of confidentiality that we do.

How RTWM Protects the Firm’s Clients’ Information

Each employee of RTWM is aware of this Privacy Policy and has acknowledged the requirement to comply with this policy. In accordance with this policy, each employee has access to information to the extent reasonably necessary for them to perform services for the client, and to comply with applicable procedures and requirements. To protect client information from unauthorized use, RTWM uses security measures that comply with federal law, including computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.
